COMPLAINT

COME NOW the Plaintiffs, above-named, by and through their attorneys, Aleshire Robb, P.C., and allege as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. On July 19, 2018, seventeen people had their lives tragically and horrifically taken from them when the Ride the Ducks Stretch Duck 07 Duck Boat sank to the bottom of Table Rock Lake in Branson, Missouri.

2. As Stretch Duck 07 sank, the canopy of the Duck Boat entrapped passengers and dragged them to the bottom of the lake with the Duck Boat.

3. On that day, Defendant, Ripley Entertainment, Inc. (“Ripley”), operated Stretch Duck 07 and recklessly risked the lives of its passengers for purely financial reasons.

4. Despite being aware of impending severe weather conditions, Ripley intentionally decided to take the Duck Boat out onto Table Rock Lake instead of cancelling the tour and refunding the patrons' money.

5. Stretch Duck 07 was designed and manufactured by Defendants, Ride the Ducks, International, LLC, Ride the Ducks of Branson, LLC, Herschend Family Entertainment Corporation and/or Amphibious Vehicle Manufacturing, LLC. These Defendants will be collectively referred to as "RTDI", unless otherwise indicated.

6. This tragedy was the predictable and predicted result of decades of unacceptable, greed-driven, and willful ignorance of safety by the Duck Boat industry in the face of specific and repeated warnings that their Duck Boats are death traps for passengers and pose grave danger to the public on water and on land.

7. Prior to this catastrophe, the Duck Boat industry knew that their Duck Boats were entirely unfit to be used for any purpose and had previously been responsible for dozens of deaths.

8. Prior to killing seventeen people in Branson, injuring fourteen others, and ruining the lives of countless more, Defendants had been told that design flaws in the Duck Boats made them more susceptible to sinking.

9. On numerous occasions before July 19, 2018, Defendants were warned that the canopies used on their Duck Boats were dangerous and created death traps for passengers in the event of emergency.

10. For two decades, Defendants had been repeatedly told to change the design of their Duck Boats to make them safer, but they entirely ignored these warnings.

11. As recently as August 2017, Defendants were again warned that the dangerous design of their Duck Boats put their vessels at risk of sinking.

12. Upon information and belief, in August 2017, prior to purchasing the Branson operations of RTDI, Ripley hired an inspector, Steven Paul, to inspect the Branson Duck Boats.

13. Defendants were told by Steven Paul that their Duck Boats' engines and the bilge pumps that remove water from their hulls might fail in bad weather due to the improper placement of the boats' exhaust system.

14. Defendants did nothing in response to these warnings.

15. Despite the fact that Defendants knew their Duck Boats were unfit to be used even in ideal conditions, on the date of this catastrophe, Defendants' greed caused them to ignore severe weather conditions that demanded they cancel all trips scheduled for their Duck Boats.

16. Despite countless explicit warnings, Defendants repeatedly chose to value profits over the safety of their passengers, and sent Stretch Duck 07 and thirty-one people out on Table Rock Lake on July 19, 2018, where the vessel took on water and sank to the bottom of the lake, dragging seventeen innocent victims to their avoidable deaths and causing life-altering injuries to the fourteen passengers who survived.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

42. The Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 28 USC § 1332(a) because the matter in controversy exceeds the jurisdictional threshold, exclusive of costs, it is between citizens of different states, and because the defendants each have certain minimum contacts with the State of Missouri such that the maintenance of the suit in this district does not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

43. Venue in the United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri is proper pursuant to 28 USC § 1391(a)(2) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action occurred in this judicial district, and because Defendants were subject to personal jurisdiction in this judicial district at the time of the commencement of the action.

IV. FACTS

The Deadly History of Duck Boats

44. Prior to the tragic events of July 19, 2018, Defendants knew that their Duck Boats were inherently unsafe given that from 1999 to 2016, their boats were directly responsible for the deaths of dozens of innocent people.

45. On May 1, 1999, The Miss Majestic Duck Boat sank on Lake Hamilton Arkansas, drowning 13 Duck Boat passengers.

46. In December 1999, the National Transportation Safety Board (“NTSB”) held a public forum on amphibious passenger vehicle safety, which was attended by members of the amphibious passenger vehicle industry and technical experts.

47. Prior to July 19, 2018, Defendants were well aware of the Miss Majestic tragedy, which was a topic of frequent discussion in the industry.

48. On February 18, 2000, the NTSB issued the following safety recommendations to operators of amphibious passenger vehicles in the United States:

M-00-5 “Without delay, alter your amphibious vessels to provide reserve buoyancy through passive means, such as watertight compartmentalization, built-in flotation, or equivalent measures, so that they will remain afloat and upright in the event of flooding, even when carrying a full complement of passenger and crew.”

49. Defendants had knowledge of the existence of this recommendation and read it before July 19, 2018.

50. RTDI specifically responded to the NTSB's report, writing a letter to Jim Hall, Chairman of the NTSB on June 26, 2000, in an attempt to refute the NTSB's M-00-5 Safety Recommendation.

51. In this letter, Robert F. McDowell, then president of Ride the Ducks Branson, admitted that the significant costs associated with making their Duck Boats safer posed a roadblock to adopting the NTSB's recommendations:

extension, will also need to be considered. We have a potential solution that we are pursuing at this time. It will require considerable feasibility evaluation, and thus expense. We hope to make a determination regarding this concept by the year-end.

Once again, thank you for the opportunity to provide input regarding the Safety Recommendation M-00-05.

Sincerely,

Robert F. McDowell
President

52. Robert McDowell's challenge of the NTSB chairman and the NTSB safety recommendation was driven solely by an attempt to value profits over the safety of Defendants' passengers as Mr. McDowell had no training or formal academic background in engineering.

53. Robert McDowell designed and developed "stretch duck" boats, including Stretch Duck 07.

54. Upon information and belief, Robert McDowell completed just two years of college and had no background, training or certification in mechanics to support his claims of alternative design.

55. Upon information and belief, Robert McDowell's design was based entirely upon conversations with a high school football coach who previously co-owned the Ride the Ducks business.

56. Upon information and belief, Robert McDowell "self-educated by going to auto parts stores and talking to different people" and did not consult with any engineers when designing the stretch Duck Boats.

57. Jim Hall, chairman of the NTSB, responded directly to Robert McDowell's attempt to rebuff the NTSB recommendations on August 16, 2000, emphasizing that the recommendations were made "because the Board believed that immediate action was necessary to avoid additional loss of life".

AUG 16 2000

Mr. Robert F. McDowell
President
Ride the Ducks
Land & Lake Tour
Post Office Box 1837
Branson, Missouri 65615

Dear Mr. McDowell:

The Board agrees that proper maintenance and operator training are also important to DUKW safety. These issues will be addressed in the Safety Board's final report, which will also address the probable cause of the Arkansas accident. The reserve buoyancy recommendation was issued in advance of the final accident report of the Miss Majestic accident because the Board believed that immediate action was necessary to avoid additional loss of life.

Thank you for your interest in transportation safety.

Sincerely,

ORIGINAL SIGNED BY JIM HALL

Jim Hall
Chairman

58. Despite the NTSB chairman's warning directed to Robert McDowell and to Defendants that immediate action was necessary to avoid additional loss of life, Defendants ignored this warning.

59. On April 2, 2002, the NTSB adopted and published a report entitled "Marine Accident Report Sinking of the Amphibious Passenger Vehicle Miss Majestic, Lake Hamilton, near Hot Springs, Arkansas, May 1, 1999."

60. According to the NTSB Miss Majestic report, "[o]ne major outcome of the forum was the realization by participants that amphibious vehicles pose unique and unresolved safety risks to the public, but that the vehicles could be made safe by installing safety features that would prevent them from sinking when flooded.”

61. The 2002 NTSB report found “unacceptable level of risks to passenger safety continue to exist in these vehicles...because the industry has failed to take voluntary action to address [the risk posed by lack of adequate reserve buoyancy].”

62. The NTSB Miss Majestic report found that the overhead canopy over passengers’ heads “essentially caged them, making escape in limited time available extremely difficult”. The report also concluded that “the natural buoyancy of the passengers’ bodies forced them into the overhead canopy, which acted like a net to entrap them and to prevent their vertical escape.”

63. The NTSB report concluded that the “canopies present major safety risks . . . [especially since] . . . [t]his unique vehicle is often promoted to and used by school groups. . . . The Safety Board therefore concludes that, on amphibious passenger vehicles that cannot remain afloat when flooded, canopies represent an unacceptable risk to passenger safety.”

64. On June 23, 2002, just two months after the NTSB’s report, the Lady Duck sank in the Ottawa River.

65. Four passengers, including a mother and her two young children, were trapped under the sinking boat’s canopy and ultimately drowned. Even more tragically, these victims were able to put on life jackets but became ensnared in the canopy and were dragged down with the boat.

66. Subsequent investigation revealed that, in addition to the canopy’s failures, a failure of the Lady Duck’s bilge pump contributed to this tragedy.

67. The dangers and unacceptable risks of Duck Boats were further highlighted by the July 7, 2010 tragedy where DUKW Boat 34 sank in Philadelphia and resulted in the deaths of two Hungarian tourists, Dora Schwendtner and Szabolcs Prem.

68. A collision between a Duck Boat and a barge caused the Duck Boat to sink.

69. Due to the defective canopy design on the Duck Boat, Dora and Szabolcs became trapped and dragged down with the vessel, causing their horrific and painful deaths by drowning.

70. Representatives from RTDI were repeatedly told during the litigation that ensued of the dangers of their canopy design and the fact that engineering analysis established that the Duck Boat was defective and should not be in use.

71. In addition to being dangerous on water, Duck Boats are deadly on land.

72. On May 8, 2015, Elizabeth Karnicki was run over and killed by a Duck Boat owned and operated by RTDI in Philadelphia, PA while her husband was forced to watch.

73. The operator of DUKW 46 failed to observe Elizabeth Karnicki lawfully crossing in front of his vehicle due to his lack of situational awareness and the massive blind spots on the Duck Boat caused by the bow in front of the operator which prevented him from being able to see the pedestrian in front of him.

74. Four months later, on September 24, 2015, the front axle of a Duck Boat broke in Seattle, causing a horrific accident with a bus which left five dead and injured sixty-nine.

75. Prior to the Seattle tragedy, RTDI was aware of a front axle defect in its Duck Boats but failed to issue the appropriate recall, a flagrant violation of applicable law, which would have prevented this horrible accident.

76. On April 30, 2016, a Duck Boat caused tragedy again when a Boston woman was run over by a boat while riding her scooter.

77. Twenty-eight-year-old Allison Warmuth met her tragic demise as the result of an inattentive Duck Boat driver, who was seen on video, turned in his seat and pointing out landmarks when he ran over Ms. Warmuth with the 2.5 ton vessel.

78. Upon information and belief, in August 2017, prior to purchasing the Branson operations of RTDI, Ripley hired inspector Steven Paul to inspect the Duck Boats used by the Branson operation, including Stretch Duck 07.

79. According to Mr. Paul, his inspection was conducted “so [Ripley] had the opportunity to know what they were buying before the sale was final”.

80. Upon information and belief, Steven Paul warned Defendants that the design of their Duck Boats put their vessels at risk of sinking.

81. Upon information and belief, the chassis for Stretch Duck 07 was originally built in 1944 and used a four-ton-truck-chassis.

82. Defendants’ decision to use the chassis from the 1940s was for the purpose of avoiding modern safety and emissions standards.

83. Upon information and belief, Defendants were specifically told that the dangerous design of the Duck Boats rendered them susceptible to sinking in the event of rough conditions on the water due to the improper placement of the motor’s exhaust in front of the boat and below the water line.

84. According to reports, Mr. Paul told Defendants that “in rough conditions, water could get into the exhaust system, and then into the motor, cutting it off”.

85. These were the exact conditions faced by Stretch Duck 07 on Table Rock Lake on July 19, 2018.

The Tragic Events of July 19, 2018

86. Defendants' Stretch Duck 07 should have never been on the water on the date of this tragedy.

87. Jim Pattison, Jr., Ripley's president, admitted as much when asked in an interview if the boat should have been on the water, replying "no, it shouldn't have been in the water".

88. At 11:24 a.m. on the morning of July 19, 2018, the National Weather Service issued a severe thunderstorm watch for much of southwest Missouri, including Table Rock Lake.

89. The severe thunderstorm watch was in effect from 11:20 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. on July 19, 2018.

90. Despite the severe thunderstorm watch, Ripley prioritized profits over safety and continued normal business operations.

91. At 6:32 p.m., the warning was upgraded to a severe thunderstorm warning, specifically for Taney, Stone, and Barry counties, including Table Rock Lake, warning that the area was to experience winds of up to 60 miles per hour.

6:32 PM - 19 Jul 2018 from Missouri, USA

92. In the face of this second, heightened warning, Ripley continued to prioritize profits over safety and carried on with normal business operations, sending Ride the Ducks

Stretch Duck 07 out on Table Rock Lake with thirty-one people on board, including Belinda Coleman and Angela Coleman.

93. Previously, Ripley had marketed and sold tickets to these passengers for a tourist trip on the amphibious vehicle which was to first include a tour through the streets of Branson, followed by a cruise on Table Rock Lake.

94. The subject tour was scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

95. Upon information and belief, at 6:28 p.m., the Captain and Driver of Stretch Duck 07 were told to modify the tour schedule and take the water portion before the land portion in an effort to beat the storm.

96. As passengers began to board the vessel, the Captain acknowledged that he had monitored the weather radar before the trip.

97. At approximately 6:50 p.m., the Captain began a safety briefing before the boat entered the water.

98. During this briefing, passengers were told they would not need their life jackets.

99. This Captain was specifically trained, consistent with RTDI policy that they should forego water entry anytime severe weather is approaching the area, or if there is a risk of winds exceeding 35 miles per hour, or if waves may be higher than 2.5 feet.

100. Thus, by entering the water when severe weather was approaching, Ripley violated its own policies and the policies that previously existed under RTDI.

101. After Stretch Duck 07 entered the water, the well-predicted storm arrived and the Duck Boat encountered waves as high as four feet on Table Rock Lake.

102. At this point, company policy mandated that the Captain instruct passengers to put on their life jackets.

103. Again the Captain violated protocol and never gave this instruction.

104. Instead, the captain lowered the plastic side curtains, thus further entrapping passengers in the soon-to-sink vessel.

105. Due to the defective design of the Duck Boat, Stretch Duck 07 struggled to fight through these waves, with its bow going under water.

106. Due to the defective design of the Duck Boat, Stretch Duck 07 was unable to stay above the surface of Table Rock Lake, taking on water and slowly sinking lower in the lake with each additional gallon of water that poured in.

107. Due to the dangerous and defective canopy of Stretch Duck 07, its passengers were trapped inside the Duck Boat as it sank below the surface of Table Rock Lake.

108. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' carelessness, negligence, gross negligence, recklessness, outrageous conduct, and complete disregard for the welfare of their passengers, seventeen people were dragged to their horrific deaths when Stretch Duck 07 sank to the bottom of Table Rock Lake, with the fourteen survivors suffering life-altering injuries.

109. As the Duck Boat sank to the bottom of Table Rock Lake, the canopy entrapped passengers and dragged them down with the Duck Boat.

110. Included in the deceased are Belinda Coleman and Angela Coleman, who suffered agonizing deaths, submerged beneath the waters of Table Rock Lake.

111. Prior to their deaths, Belinda Coleman and Angela Coleman suffered unimaginable fear of impending death.

112. Belinda Coleman and Angela Coleman struggled and fought to resurface but they eventually were deprived of oxygen and suffered horrific death by drowning.

113. Prior to July 19, 2018, Defendants knew that Duck Boats are deadly on the land and on the water.

114. Prior to July 19, 2018, Defendants knew that their Duck Boats' minimal usefulness as a product is outweighed by the grave danger they pose to the community.

115. Despite Defendants' knowledge, they chose to value profits over the safety of their passengers and sent thirty-one innocent people in Stretch Duck 07 out on Table Rock Lake on July 19, 2018, willfully and intentionally placing them directly in harm's way.

116. The injuries and death sustained as a result of this tragedy were caused as a direct and proximate result of the negligence, gross negligence, carelessness, recklessness and/or other liability-producing conduct of Defendants.

117. As a result, Plaintiffs claim damages for all general, special, incidental and consequential damages incurred, or to be incurred, by Plaintiffs including, among other things, wrongful death benefits, damages for the horrific and agonizing pain and suffering endured by Belinda Coleman and Angela Coleman until the moment of their deaths, and damages for the loss of the services, consortium, companionship, comfort, instruction, guidance, counsel, training and support of Belinda Coleman and Angela Coleman.

118. Plaintiffs also claim aggravating circumstances damages against Defendants to punish Defendants and to deter others from like conduct.

119. Defendants, Ripley Entertainment, Inc., d/b/a Ride the Ducks, Ride the Ducks International LLC, d/b/a Ride the Ducks, Ride the Ducks of Branson, LLC, d/b/a Ride the Ducks, Herschend Family Entertainment Corporation, d/b/a Ride the Ducks, and Amphibious
